THE REBELLIONS OF 1837-1838: ONE-PAGE-COMIC-STRIP

After having learning about the Rebellions of Upper and Lower Canada, it is time to show me what you have learned in a comic strip!

Directions:

- Must be done on a single blank piece of paper.
- Must fill entire page.
- Can create whatever way you would like but must be about a person, event, and/or outcome of the Rebellions that you consider important.
- Please be sure to make it and class related and class appropriate.
- On the backside of the comic strip, explain why you consider the person, event, and/or outcome that your comic strip illustrates to be important. It should be six to eight sentences long and in paragraph form.
- Can use pencils, markers, or pencil crayons but rationale must be in pen!

Grade Rubric: The Rebellion of 1837-1838: One Page Comic Strip Assignment

	Highly Evident	Mostly Evident	Partially Evident	Absent
Completion of Task	6	4	2	1
	Followed instructions attentively	Followed instructions sufficiently	Followed instructions insufficiently	Incomplete work
Use of Class Content	6	4	2	1
	Connected to ideas and concepts explored in class	Somewhat connected to ideas and concepts explored in class	Loosely connected to ideas and concepts explored in class	Need work
Quality of one page comic strip	6	4	2	1
p-8	Thoughtful and creative flag; convincing and well written Rationale	Somewhat thoughtful and creative flag; convincing Rationale	Somewhat thoughtful flag and rationale provided	Needs work
Observable Effort	6	4	2	1
	Demonstrate outstanding work and effort.	Demonstrate sufficient work and effort.	Demonstrate insufficient work	Needs work
			Total:	/ 24

Comments: